

Film Discussion Group

Tuesdays 2:30 – 3:30 via Zoom

Each week we agree to watch a film selected by the week's rotating discussion leader. Below are upcoming films that have been scheduled. Please see the enews or contact Rob for the zoom link. If you would like to lead one week, please send Rob your film title and where it's available.

Upcoming Films

June 9 – The Last Black Man in San Francisco, led by Diane Newman. Available on YouTube, Google Play, Vudu, Amazon Prime-

June 16 – Crip Camp, led by Judy Friede. Available on Netflix.

Crip Camp is a documentary about disability rights. It begins in 1971 at a summer camp in upstate New York created for teens with disabilities and run by hippies. It then follows the lives of some of these campers who become disability rights activists and fight for the ADA. Crip Camp won the Audience Award at Sundance and was released in 2020.

June 23 – Searching for Sugar Man, led by Anita Lowe. Available on Netflix.

Winner of Best Documentary at the 85th Academy Awards, Searching for Sugar Man is about a Detroit singer-songwriter called Rodriguez who disappeared following the commercial failure of his albums, and two fans who try to track him down. He became a South African cultural phenomenon during the time of apartheid.
